 ★ Catering by A Catered Affaire

Come meet and hear our speaker,
 LOREN SPIVACK

Did you know that practically everything we've heard about environmentalism, human population and capitalism is false and causes people to make bad decisions? Did you know that capitalism has been the most effective protector of the environment as well as the greatest enhancer of human life in history?

Loren Spivack is known as The Free Market Warrior!

Tickets are $40 per person. A no-host bar is available.
 Advance reservations are required. Attendees without advance reservations will be charged $45 at the door.

Please RSVP to Ellie Dobler

 than July 6th.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

July 10th, 2018 will be our first Garden Party of the summer! Dinner on the Championship Golf Course in Ellie Dobler's beautiful garden at 995 Fairway Boulevard will feature the "Free Market Warrior" Loren Spivack, speaking "On Capitalism and Humanity: the False Assumptions Underlying Environmentalism." Loren will tell us how the excesses of environmentalism give capitalism a bad rap, when in fact capitalism has been the most effective protector of the environment and the greatest enhancer of human life in history. Practically everything we hear nowadays about environmentalism, human population and capitalism is false and causes people to make poor decisions. Loren's thought-provoking and lively presentation should help us counteract some of the wrong ideas "out there" that our friends, neighbors and family members may be fooled by. Each one, tell one!

Three Republicans – Tim Callicrate, Sara Schmitz and Kendra Wong – survived the June 12th primary and will compete in the general election on November 6th for two seats on IVGID's Board of Trustees. Sara and Tim are member and associate member (respectively) of our club. Our member and Past President Carol Del Carlo was officially reelected to a full six-year term on the Nevada System of Higher Education Board of Regents. Congratulations, Carol! Another member and our incumbent Assemblywoman Lisa Krasner was unopposed in the Republican Primary, but will be opposed by June Joseph, a Democrat in the general election.

Our members want to know which candidates running in nonpartisan elections are Republicans, so we have posted on our website (at <http://www.ivcbrw.org/election-2018/local-republicans-running-for-office/>) a list of all Republicans running for office that will be on our local ballot in 2018.

We can be (very) cautiously optimistic about the outcome of the U.S.-North Korea summit, as are

President Trump and our June speaker, Keith Hansen. Keith reminded us of the similarities between what is happening now (which he described as "a good first step") and the initial steps taken by the old Soviet Union and the United States under the leadership of Ronald Reagan which eventually (that is, after five years!) led to the first meaningful nuclear arms-control treaty between the two adversaries, and eventually to other such treaties. President Trump has said repeatedly that there is no guarantee that anything will come of this, but he also seems to have changed the structure of incentives, so we can at least hope that Kim Jong-un will respond differently and more productively than he has in the past. In any case, Donald Trump appears to be a firm believer in Ronald Reagan's maxim, "Trust but Verify!"

Patricia Moser Morris

"Each One Bring One" – Let's Recruit New Members!

Our club is a great but underappreciated resource for our community. We have terrific speakers – could Keith Hansen's presentation have been more topical? – who teach us things we really need to know when we need to know them. Our July speaker's topic ("On Capitalism and Humanity: The False Assumptions Underlying Environmentalism") is a particularly good opportunity to attract your like-minded friends and relatives to experience what our club offers. And bring your children and grandchildren – God knows what little opportunity they have nowadays to hear the truth about this subject!

We must never remain silent in the face of bigotry. We must condemn those who seek to divide us. In all quarters and at all times, we must teach tolerance and denounce racism, anti-Semitism and all ethnic or religious bigotry wherever they exist as unacceptable evils. We have no place for haters in America – none, whatsoever.

– Ronald Reagan

You're invited to the Garden Party on July 10th

About our Speaker,
LOREN SPIVACK

Loren Spivack, "The Free Market Warrior," was born and raised in Massachusetts and spent most of his adult life in New York City. Before becoming active in politics, Spivack worked for several non-profits and as a management consultant for both profit and non-profit companies.

Spivack founded "Free Market Warrior" in 2009 in an effort to make a positive difference in American politics and economics.

His "Free Market Warrior" store was expelled from Concord Mills Mall in North Carolina in July of 2009 for selling material critical of the Obama Administration. (Mall owners, Simon Property Group, are major Democratic donors.) Since then Loren has devoted his time to teaching conservative groups about free market economics. He conducts "Economic Literacy" seminars across the United States. So far, Spivack has delivered his famous seminar on "Economic Literacy" to over 200 groups in 20 states.

Spivack is also the author of The New Democrat, a parody history of the Obama administration, based on a famous children's book. With pitch-perfect rhyme and clever illustrations, The New Democrat transforms the political personalities of our times into cartoon characters in a conservative morality play.

Spivack's second book, The Gorax, is an anti-environmentalism/pro capitalism parody starring Al Gore and presenting his movement as a threat to American freedom and standard of living. Once again Spivack is both funny and poignant as he makes the case that capitalism (represented by the "Onepercentler") is the real victim of environmental extremists who destroy prosperity without achieving even their own goals. Along the way, Spivack takes well-aimed shots at everything from "The Fed" to the teachers unions. The Gorax came out on July 1, 2013.

Mr. Spivack lives in Massachusetts with his wife and three of their six children (the other three having grown up.)

SPECIAL EVENT HAPPENING IN SEPTEMBER

We are planning an exciting fundraising event for this September 11th and would like your help and support in making it a roaring success.

The event is a special luncheon with a tongue-in-cheek "fashion show" featuring historical and present-day "first ladies" wearing the fashions of their eras. Joanellen Slocumb is organizing this event and has identified women from our club and other Northern Nevada Republican women's clubs who bear a resemblance to various first ladies. It's sure to be a memorable event with good food and lots of laughs.

Even though our club is not considered a 501 (c) (3) charitable organization, we do support college scholarships, "We the People," "Red White and Tahoe Blue" and various veteran organizations as well as our other club activities. In fact, we are including a silent auction and raffle prizes (with the luncheon and fashion show) to raise money for the partial college scholarship that we award to an Incline High School senior every year as well as

QUOTES AND GREAT AMERICAN THOUGHTS

“Do not let anyone claim tribute of American patriotism if they even attempt to remove religion from politics.” – George Washington’s Farewell Address to Nation

“Sure I wave the American flag. Do you know a better flag to wave? Sure I love my country with all her faults. I’m not ashamed of that, never have been, never will be.” – John Wayne

“America was established not to create wealth but to realize a vision, to realize an ideal – to discover and maintain liberty among men.” – Woodrow Wilson

“We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Our constitution was made for a moral and religious people... it is wholly inadequate to the government of any other...” – John Quincy Adams other activities. Thus, we need a variety of items to be offered either at auction or raffle.

Please support our college scholarship fund by:

- (1) donating an item to be included in the silent auction or raffle; and/or
(2) asking vendors and businesses that you have a relationship with to donate appropriate items.

Examples of popular items include but are not limited to: bottles of wine or other alcohol; gift certificates to restaurants, stores or services; household items; jewelry; and vacation getaways. Vendors and business owners or managers are most likely to donate items when the request comes from a known customer or client, so your relationship is key to obtaining any of these items. Please be sure to tell the businesses who donate that we will give them publicity in the program and in our newsletter.

Experience tells us that donated items can be combined into a package that often auctions for more than the individual items alone would. When you have reached a decision on your personal donation or have a commitment for a donation by a vendor, please notify either Ronnie Bayduza or Nancy Pringle of our club, who will gather the items being donated. Ronnie can be reached at ronniebayduza@reagan.com or at (775)386-3907; and Nancy can be reached at (775)832-3002. Businesses that prefer to donate by mail may send donations to: IVCBRW, P.O. Box 3009, Incline Village NV 89450. Please notify us of your donations by August 15th so that we have time to prepare them for the auction.

With your help, we can make this event both successful and memorable. Thank you in advance for your participation in this promising and exciting event.

My Goals in "MAKING AMERICA GREAT AGAIN"

by Edward Parkhill

"I want to 'Make America Great Again,'" was the thought that ran through my mind as I put on my hat emblazoned with these same words. It was Homecoming Spirit Week at my high school and the theme for the day was "Pennsylvania Avenue."

Images of the White House and Old Glory made me feel quite patriotic. I had even purchased my lid on Pennsylvania Avenue when I visited Washington D.C. with the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth. I traveled for two weeks with students my age from across the United States, Canada and Europe. It seemed only fitting to honor the current president and first lady of our great country and their predecessors. Normally, hats are not permitted at school but today we had the blessing of the administration -- or so I thought.

I walked into the school proudly wearing my hat and headed to my guitar class. My friend also wore his MAGA hat that day to class. My classmates made a few comments and we discussed the "Pennsylvania Avenue" theme and what we thought it meant to "Make America Great Again." Our teacher led a respectful conversation, and no one seemed offended and we continued with our lesson for the day. In the middle of class my friend and I were called out of class by a school official. She asked us to remove our MAGA hats because they were offensive. We were told that wearing our hats was making other students sad and perhaps it would cause potential violence. We politely refused to take them off and told her that we were proud to be

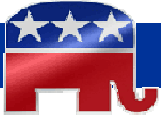

Americans and that we wanted to show support to our President, no matter who he or she was, because we love America. I also told her that we were just trying to show school spirit in honor of spirit week. She told us it was the student government's fault for leading us to believe that "Pennsylvania Avenue" had anything to do with the president in the first place. We didn't know what to say to that comment. My friend was also told by another administrator that wearing a Hillary Clinton hat would have been okay because he would be the only one offended. I had read about this sort of thing happening in other schools, but I did not think that this would be such a problem at Incline High School. We live in the United States. We have freedom of speech and this was clearly a violation of that right.

I am a graduating senior this year, and this experience had an impact on me. I want to make a difference and "Make America Great Again." I will fight for the right to stand up and speak my mind. I think that education is about listening to the opinions of others whether I agree with their ideas or not. I plan to attend a school that protects my first amendment right. Last year, the University of Florida after much consideration, allowed Richard Spencer, the leader of a white supremacist movement, to speak on their campus. This did not mean that they supported his vile and hateful ideas, it meant that they maintained his first amendment right to speak. It taught the students that expression of ideas and debate, even ones that we vehemently oppose, are principles that our country was founded upon.

I plan to keep an open mind about the people that I meet. One thing that I believe I can do to "Make America Great Again" is to accept everyone for who they are. Classifying and segregating people and focusing on differences does not bring us together as a nation. Each person has a unique heritage, culture, religion and way of thinking. When I traveled on the United Nations trip, I met kids that were not like me and that was the best part. I made friendships based on our differences. We shared our music, culture, politics and laughed about each other's accents. When I start college, I hope that my roommate and new friends will teach me about their differences too. It would be very boring if we were all the same.

I will show my pride and respect for my country to "Make America Great Again." We live in the greatest country on earth! Burning our flag or kneeling during the national anthem does not set a good example. Our soldiers fight to protect us and our rights, and they deserve our support. We must look out for each other and help those in need. A few weeks ago, just before Easter, I volunteered at the Village Church. I loaded boxes of food into the cars of families in need. This was such a simple way to help, but those people were so happy to have the assistance. A little kindness will make a difference and hopefully will bring our divided country together again.

When my friend and I wore our MAGA hats to school that day, we did not realize that it would start a ripple through our community. That night when we attended the homecoming football game, to our surprise, we had several parents approach us wearing their own MAGA hats! They wanted to speak up too and they told us that we had their support. Many parents and community members, without prompting, wrote letters on our behalf to the school administration supporting our right to free speech. Although I understand that the school administration must provide a safe environment for all students, they did not encourage debate or discussion as our guitar teacher did. He may not have agreed with our political views, but he supported our right to speak and respectfully gave each of his students a voice. As I move forward and leave high school, I learned that even the simple act of wearing a MAGA hat to school can make a difference in a community. Let us come together as a nation with a strong sense of pride, and let's "MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN."

PROPOSED NATIONAL POPULAR VOTE INTERSTATE COMPACT THREATENS YOUR VOTE

Please Take Action!

The National Popular Vote Interstate Compact (NPVIC) is the Democrats' attempt to get rid of the Electoral College. Our Electoral College assures that the U.S. President and Vice President are elected with broad support from citizens throughout the country, rather than just concentrated in several population centers. Currently, when Presidential and Vice-Presidential candidates win a state, the winning candidates get all the electoral votes of that state. But after a state votes in the NPVIC as law, then regardless of how a state votes in a presidential election, all of its electoral votes will go to the candidates (Presidential and Vice-Presidential) who get the majority of the national popular vote.

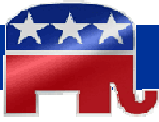

There are currently 12 states with a total of 170 electoral votes that have already voted the NPVIC into law. If states with 270 electoral votes – i.e., a majority of the total number of electoral votes -- approve the NPVIC, then the Electoral College will have been effectively abolished, and the Democrats will have succeeded in their plan to 'work around' the provision in the Constitution that establishes and empowers the Electoral College.

The 13 states that have already voted the NPVIC into law are Maryland, New Jersey, Illinois, Hawaii, Washington, Massachusetts, Vermont, California, Rhode Island, New York, the District of Columbia and (unfortunately) most recently, Connecticut. The states that have NPVIC legislation pending in their current legislative sessions are Pennsylvania, Ohio and North Carolina. If you know anyone that lives in these three states, please contact them. Ask them to contact their state legislators and governor and ask for a NO vote on the NPVIC.

Thank you for being involved politically; we have our work cut out for us!

Taking Care of the American Flag – See you July 4th!

by Kay Lehr, Americanism Chair

Traditional guidelines call for displaying the flag often – especially on national and state holidays. Each year on our national holiday July 4th, we see flags displayed and waving everywhere!

Public Law 94-344, known as the Federal Flag Code, contains rules for handling and displaying the U.S. flag. For instance, the flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset although if the flag is illuminated, it can be displayed in darkness. The flag should not be subject to weather damage; therefore it should not be displayed during the rain, snow and windstorms unless it is an all-weather flag.

The language in the federal code makes clear that the flag is a living symbol and should be cared for with the utmost respect. The flag should not be soiled and, if so, it should be professionally cleaned. Gratefully in our community, Incline Cleaners at 889 Tahoe Blvd, Incline Village, will clean American Flags at no cost. Should you have a flag that needs to be cleaned, contact Mike Trute at 775-831-1672 at Incline Cleaners.

If your flag is tattered, it needs to be destroyed in an official ceremony. Red White and Tahoe Blue has scheduled such a ceremony for July 2nd, at 8:30 p.m. at Incline Beach. If you have never attended a flag retirement ceremony, I strongly recommend it. I think you'll find it to be very moving. To all patriotic Republicans, I hope to see you and your families celebrating July 4th from Saturday June 30 through fireworks on the beach on July 4th!

The Story of the Fourth of July

We celebrate American Independence Day on the Fourth of July every year. We think of July 4, 1776, as a day that represents the Declaration of Independence and the birth of the United States of America as an independent nation.

But July 4, 1776 wasn't the day that the Continental Congress decided to declare independence (they did that on July 2, 1776). It wasn't the day we started the American Revolution either (that had happened back in April 1775). And it wasn't the day Thomas Jefferson wrote the first draft of the Declaration of Independence (that was in June 1776). Or the date on which the Declaration was delivered to Great Britain (that didn't happen until November 1776). Or the date it was signed (that was August 2, 1776).

So what did happen on July 4, 1776?

The Continental Congress approved the final wording of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. They'd been working on it for a couple of days after the draft was submitted on July 2nd and finally agreed on all of the edits and changes.

July 4, 1776, became the date that was included on the Declaration of Independence, and the fancy handwritten copy that was signed in August (the copy now displayed at the National Archives in Washington, D.C.) It's also the date that was printed on the Dunlap Broadside, the original printed copies of the Declaration that were circulated throughout the new nation. So when people thought of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776 was the date they remembered.

5 Things You May Not Know about
Donald Trump

1. Trump's grandparents anglicized their name from Drumpf. His grandfather Friedrich and grandmother Elisabeth were born in Germany and immigrated to the United States. Their son Fred Trump married Donald Trump's mother Mary Ann MacLeod, who was born in Scotland and met Donald Trump's father during a vacation trip to New York.
2. While Donald Trump did inherit wealth from his father, he is personally responsible for accumulating the great bulk of his fortune. Trump's father built affordable rental housing, mostly in Brooklyn and Queens in New York City. He had a net wealth estimated at between $250 million and $400 million at the time of his death, but his four surviving children were heirs. By 2011, Donald Trump's business dealings had boosted his fortune to $2.4 billion, according to Forbes. One estimate now places his worth at $4.1 billion; another maintains it is as high as $7 billion.
3. Trump's parents sent him to a military school, New York Military Academy, when he was 13 years old. While there he played varsity football, varsity soccer, and was captain of his varsity baseball team.
4. Trump's oldest sister, Maryanne Trump Barry, served as a federal appeals court judge. She was nominated for the post by President Bill Clinton in 1999 and unanimously confirmed by the Senate. Prior to that, she had a seat on the United States District Court for the District of New Jersey.
5. Trump prefers cherry-vanilla ice cream. He also loves hamburgers and meat loaf, he once told Us Weekly, but he doesn't drink coffee, tea, or alcohol, and eats only the toppings on pizza, discarding the dough. And he eats lunch at his desk.
